Krontz

Wilmington Tp

The following inscriptions were gathered by Darrell O. Watson of Ft. Wayne, Indiana on 3 April 2003 by walking and mapping out this cemetery. This file was corrected to coincide with information also found in the old Krontz Cemetery File located in the William H. Willennar Genealogy Center, Auburn, Indiana. These pages may be copied for any purpose without the express permission of the submitter.

The "Krontz Cemetery" is physically located on Dekalb County Road 63, approximately one (1) mile north of Dekalb County Road 40 on the West side of County Road 63. Evidence shows that it is properly maintained with a few exceptions. Many of the tombstones are "broken" and/or missing. During the gathering of these inscriptions, it was noticed that there are portions of tombstones lying on the side of the hill bordering the north side of the cemetery. These could possibly be re-claimed and matched to the tombstones indicated on the graves. The property on which the cemetery lies was given by John A. Krontz. John was an early settler of Wilmington Township, Dekalb County, Indiana, having moved there from Ohio around 1843.

The attached map is not produced to scale. It is only furnished to indicate the approximate location within the cemetery of each tombstone. These stones were read to the best of my ability. NOTES INSIDE PARENTHESIS' ARE MY PERSONAL NOTES ADDED FOR INFORMATION ONLY.
